The Inventor for 1957

*Thomas A. Edison
High School*

• Fresno, California •

A former Edison High and Fresno State College graduate, Mr. Argentino has been an instructor at Edison High since 1939. He has coached varsity and lightweight football. In more recent years his time has been devoted to woodshop classes and acting as boys counselor to the Junior College Industrial Arts program. He served four years in the U. S. Navy as a Chief Petty Officer during World War II.

Mr. Mehl, a graduate of Edison High and Fresno State College, served eight years in the military service and three years as an instructor in the Teague School before coming to Edison High in 1946. Since then he has done much in helping to guide many of the boys in the Industrial Arts Department.

We fondly dedicate this issue of the INVENTOR to Mr. Michael Argentino and Mr. Robert Mehl who have worked continuously to promote a better understanding among boys and to help them. We feel this dedication is but a small tribute to them for their efforts.

• Principal's Message •

I should like to give some parting advice to you, students and graduates of Edison High School, as you leave here either for summer vacations, employment, or institutions of higher learning.

I shall condense my advice by mentioning some of the results of a survey conducted by the Carnegie Foundation on ten thousand successful people over our country.

Fifteen percent of our successful people give credit for their success to some type of technical training. The other eighty-five percent give credit to the following qualities.

1. Knowledge of the assigned job.
2. Self-expression—being able to express oneself in speech and writing.
3. Organized thinking—doing first things first.
4. Leadership—influencing and guiding others favorably.
5. Adaptability—adjusting to meet the situation.
6. Decisions—making up one's mind.
7. Creative imagination—having original ideas.
8. Concentration—doing the job at hand.
9. Observation—noticing what goes on.
10. Thoroughness—doing a job well.
11. Initiative—doing more than is expected.
12. Attitude—having the proper attitude toward people and work.

Of all the above twelve qualities the last one (attitude) is the number one quality. If you can develop only one quality, the one called attitude will be of more value to you than any other.
